Greetings and Salutations,

As we approach 2025, I find myself reflecting on the incredible journey of E@E. From humble beginnings to where we stand today, it's been a remarkable 17 years transformation especially from the technical side of things, where I've had the privilege of shaping how we present ourselves to the world.

What started as a handful of self-written, web-hosted pages has evolved into a robust online presence hosted on the Azure Cloud. This growth has allowed us to showcase the heart of E@E securely and effectively.

This progress wouldn't have been possible without the generosity of our partners. Microsoft has graciously provided us with our current hosting solution, enabling us to bring our vision to life. Over the years, we have navigated various email-hosting solutions, often moving data around to stretch every dollar. But with the support of Google, which granted E@E access to Google Workspace for Nonprofits, we have found stability and efficiency in our operations. To both Microsoft and Google: Thank you for believing in our mission and empowering us to serve.

And just as we are grateful for our corporate partners, we are immensely thankful for you - our incredible donors. Your selfless contributions fuel our mission, year after year. Behind the scenes, I have witnessed Wendy's tireless dedication to ensuring every dollar is used wisely. I can personally attest to the countless sleepless nights she has spent, meticulously planning to honor your trust and support.

Without you, our donors, and without E@E volunteer team's unwavering commitment, E@E would not be what it is today. Together, you have made this journey possible, and together, we will continue to grow and impact lives in the years to come.

News from the school

A heartfelt thank you to our donors, E@E has not only completed another year, but has also made a profound impact by educating, nourishing and providing shelter for the children and seniors in need at the land of snow.

As in the previous year, the school Nga Gyur Shed Dup Cho Ling continuously provides education to 15 students, with additional children joining from public schools during breaks. Thank to your generous support, E@E has delivered over $5,000 worth of staple food supplies, including 800 lbs of rice, 700 lbs of flour, 500 lbs of tsampa (roasted barley flour), 500 lbs of beef, 300 lbs of dried noodle, 300 lbs of cooking oil, 100 lbs of sugar, vegetable, tea and salt. In addition, E@E has also covered other essential school expenses such as electricity ($82) and salary for two teachers (totaling $3,000) for the 2023/24 school year.

The school generously opened its doors to eighteen seniors in need, offering them a safe and warm shelter in the old classroom building. At this high altitude, January's temperature often plummets to single digit (-4 to 4 deg F) with wind chills making it feel even colder. From October to May, the nomads with their yaks migrate down from high mountains to the village to wait out for the winter. For the fourth consecutive year, the school Nga Gyur Shed Dup Cho Ling has offered food and mental support such as craft and dharma lessons for the seniors and nomads during these freezing months. Thanks to your generous donations, E@E has provided senior residents with flour, rice and cooking oil helping them to survive the harsh weather at 14,000 feet above sea level.
